

A Colina Atlântica is located in the green hills of the Estremadura region on the Costa da Prata (Silver Coast) It is only 5 miles to the ocean. Lisbon the capital of Portugal is about 60 miles to the south.

Route with own car:

From airport Lisbon to "A1 Norte".

After a few kms take direction "Ponte Vasco da Gama", (Pte. V. Gama) keep left, follow "outras direcções", follow "IC 17", past the tunnel follow "A8 Loures", "Torres Vedras". This is a toll road. Follow the A8 direction Caldas da Rainha and take exit 20 Tornada. On the roundabout turn right at the first lights in Tornada, go right, direction "Barrantes". Follow this road passing under the highway, then the road will go up to Barrantes when you arrive in the village pass it until coming to a V split, keep left on the split. After 150 m. right, follow this path ± 50m and see the house on the left, "Quinta das Maças".

From the north take "A-1" direction "Coimbra- Leiria" at Leiria take direction "Marinha Grande" and follow "A8" to Caldas da Rainha, take this tolroad till exit "Tornada" (Saida 20), from here pick up from exit 20 as described above.

Public transportation:

Lissabon-Caldas da Rainha

Take a taxi to bus station sete rios and buy a ticket (Rede Expressos) to Caldas da Rainha. From there take a taxi to "Quinta das Maças" in Barrantes.

If it is, due to late flight times, impossible to take a bus, we can arrange for a taxi, (costs around € 95,-) or a night over in Lisbon.